RED SOX TACKLE THE TIGERS:
DOVES AND PIRATES IN FINAL

Crippled by the absence of strong regulars from the lineup, the Red Sox play one game at Detroit to-day and then pass on to Philadelphia. The Tigers were warned by former experience, however, to take no chances, and Jennings put his strongest team on the firing line.

to attack this game, so that his team might be able to win. The game was played from the view point of the Doves, the contest did not mean much, but nevertheless his team was made up of the best players. He separated his team from the Doves, and he was doing such constant work for the benefit of the work of the world.

After today's contest, the Pittsburgh team packed up and was ready and on their way home where they played the Cubs. Brooklyn was the victor, a stay of four days and five games, a Philadelphia team was also present. After this series the Doves leave for the West, and they will go about around the Western end of the circuit.

Representative Lomaxey warned the Republicans that they would regret for many years to come their opposition to the proposed charter.

Representative Pierce of Boston indicated that the Republicans were in a bad character.

Representative W. H. O'Brien of Boston said that the Republicans were in a bad character. It is his last word on the charter question. It is an outrage that the people of the United States must take upon them or nothing.

Representative Chas. of Boston said that the Republicans were in a bad character. Now please let us sing the "Doxology."

Record of Boston Men.

MANCHESTER, Feb. 27.—Joseph Wilson, vice-president of the American National Steel Company, Boston, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home here today. Mr. Wilson was forty-nine years of age. For sixteen years he had been a resident of Manchester. He was born in New York, where he was connected with the N. H. White Company and the Adams Express Company. He was married and had two children. Having spoken with him shortly before his death, it was learned that he was suffering, and was for many years on his feet, and was well paid for his services. He was prominent in the Congressional Union and was well paid for his services. There are two sons, Thornton, a student at Harvard, and William, who is connected with the Henry Stearns Company. The funeral will be held at the Boston stone yesterday afternoon. The interment will follow the hour of the service on Saturday.

KING'S SUGAR BLASTS TRUST HEADS

PITTSBURGH, May 27.—What King's sugar has done for the trust heads is a story that will be told in the history of the sugar industry.

There is little women began to weep. She was seated in one of the drawing rooms at the Gayety Theatre. Mrs. Daniel O'Neill, whose stage name is Lily, and who is a singing and dancing specialty, could not be comforted.

"Victory for Mr. Martin means as much to my husband," she sobbed. "He tried the same road and risk in the great race under the name of Martin. Oh, there must have been something wrong, for I know Mr. Martin had his heart set on winning the race."

Being informed that Mr. Martin had fallen during the race, the little actress became hysterical.

TO JAIL SUGAR TRUST HEADS

NEW YORK, May 27.—"We have not failed. We have just begun," said Collette William Lock, Jr., who had returned from Washington, where he had been conferring with officials of the Treasury and the Department of Justice on the sugar trust heads and shareholders of the cane trust, who have been partially exposed.

Mr. Lock declared that every incompetent man in the service must go.

"No man who is incompetent," he asserted, "will be entrusted, but every man against whom there is reasonable cause for suspicion will have to go."

It is possible that Mr. Lock is not alone in this attitude. The government is now sending its government's systematic service for some time.

It is expected to develop new features of the sugar trusts and to cause the arrest of some "higher up" men in private and public life, who have defrauded the government of millions of revenues in sugar duties.

This action will soon be instituted against the trusts to recover the $10,000,000 in revenue that has been lost to the government during the period when the trusts were operating.

Taft in Cupid Billiken Role

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The members of the Taft Philippines party are about to present to President Taft a book of remembrance, composed of congratulatory verses, sketches, photographs and inscriptions contributed by the Filipinos on the occasion of the dinner they gave last March on the eve of the inauguration.

The book starts off with a frontispiece representing the President as a cupid billiken. The Taft motto overreads the face, the eyes (which gleefully and over the back of his throne hang a cupid's quiver). Prostrate before Cupid, making obeisance in recognition of their marital happiness, are: "Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight D. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. Bourke Cockran, whose courtship and marriage were a direct outcome of the best of the Taft party in the Philippines."

The book is the idea of Miss Helen Z. Morrison, and the text, handwritten, is inscribed on post cards chosen of exquisite value.

Representative Frederick H. Gillette of Massachusetts, stops:

"We have taken your role 'Cupid,' and we send you a book of remembrance. We send in passion, made love to 'you.' Our intention was to amuse him."

Shirt Saves Life of Baby

NEW YORK, May 27.—Little Patrick Brown, aged four, by the living relation of the summer's hoodoo 13. Patrick is the youngest of seven children. While playing on his fire escape as fell five stories to the yard below. His aerial flight cost him nothing more serious than a gash to his head, which required two stitches.

Fortunately for Patrick Wednesday in the vicinity of his home, No. 1905 Second avenue, Patrick, falling, hit the railing on the fire escape two feet below, then bounced playfully onto a clothesline.

His next stop was another floor below. Here he tumbled into a woman's shirt fastened by the wind. It was not a perfect fit, however, and Patrick slipped through, landing on his side in the yard. The dirt was soft, but it served his life.

Mrs. Margaret Kearson, the child's mother, was in the kitchen hanging out clothes. Hearing neighbors scream, she rushed to the window to see the body of her child lying on the ground below. In the yard Mrs. Kearson found Patrick's little shirt, in its hand he carried a piece of bread and butter which he had given him but a few moments before.

BASS POINT OPENS SOON.
Bass Point opens for the season Saturday with increased attractions. The steamship Governor Andrew and General Lincoln of the Bass Point line will begin regular service on Saturday. They leave for the White Star line from New York City at 8:00 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

Stars Strong for the Dutch

Omce Hawthorne's superstition has literally "got her in Dutch."

That's the whole point of it. There must be a touch of Dutch in her song, or, possibly, or costume, or Miss Hawthorne's husband's day took her hoodoo in the face. It's like this. Grace Hawthorne is the girl with the wonderfully high, sweet voice who is singing this week at the Globe Theatre in a return engagement. Patronage has swelled during her various appearances here that she inevitably includes just a "touch" of Dutch, to use a popular comparison, in her act or her make-up. Some have wondered at this Dutch note in the vaudeville scheme.

It seems that when Grace Hawthorne made her debut her first act was as Lena in Patsy Baker's "Chloe and Lena," the quaint Dutch sketch.

"Dutch must be my lucky," said Miss Hawthorne to herself. And ever since she has been contented in some way or other to let the Dutch creep into her work. She says it's the only superstition she has, and a very harmless little one at that.

Rich Radium Mine Found

LONDON, May 27.—Particulars of the discovery in Portugal a short time ago of mineral deposits which proved rich in radium have been given in an interesting paper by a German.

A British mining engineer learning that the Portuguese attributed remarkable health-giving properties to a certain stream, found that in one place the stream flowed over a yellow quartz encrusted with crystals of uranic phosphate containing over 50 per cent of uranic oxide.

Professor Walden, of the chemical department of Oxford University, found the uranic phosphate pure. It contains approximately 300 milligrams of radium in the ton of mineral and reveals the existence of one main lead extending for a mile and a half, with a width of five feet at the surface in twelve feet at a depth of fifty feet.

British capitalists have obtained control of the deposits. The price of radium may now be reduced fifty per cent.

Six Autoists Fined

Six autoists were fined $20 each in the Roxbury Court today, having been caught in a police trap. They were St. John Morgan of No. 2 Englewood avenue, Brookline; Nathan Gould of No. 59 Margaret street, Newton; Parker W. Whittemore of No. 233 Lake avenue, Norwood; Dwight T. Robinson of No. 47 Lawrence road, Brookline; Robert L. Bushnell of No. 413 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, and Fred L. Kiser of No. 16 Beech road, Brookline.

King Honors Lady Granard

LONDON, May 26.—Countess Granard has attained an honor which may be said to be among the highest social ambitions of London hostesses, that of entertaining the King during Derby week.

His Majesty, after giving a dinner at the Grosvenor Palace to the members of the Derby Club, attended a ball given by Lady Granard, with whom the Queen dined, and today their Majesties dined with Lady Granard.

The honor is all the more marked as Lady Granard only so recently made her debut among great London hostesses. The service is causing quite a sensation.

Auto Law Breakers Scored by Hughes

ALBANY, N. Y., May 27.—Governor Hughes gave notice today in the assembly bill doing away with infinite speed limits. The Governor disapproved of the bill, which is thereby lost. He says: "We are passing through a period of adjustment when the natural hostility of many to any conditions are increased by those of privilege and others are charged under what they regard as various pretenses and excuses. Nothing can be more certain than that the number of accidents will diminish and that usage and common sense will largely do away with present evils. The penalty for negligence should be heavy, but that which imposed for exceeding a speed limit."

End of Negro Strike Far Off

ATLANTA, Ga., May 26.—With all the mediators working for some kind of meeting ground between the officials of the Georgia railroad and their striking men, a settlement of the strike today appears to be as far off as ever. Governor Hoke Smith, Commissioner of Labor, the heads of the commercial bodies of Augusta and Atlanta, kept up the struggle to bring the forces together. But for one or two points raised by the officials, success might have crowned their efforts.

General Manager Scott is understood to be very determined to keep a few of the negro strikers who have been in the service for years. Not a train has moved over in Georgia road since Saturday. The people along the line are establishing communication by automobile and mail supplies are being transported by this method. The Atlanta papers' auto carry criers who distribute letters.

Train in Bay in Fierce Gale

GALVESTON, Tex., May 27.—After a terrific battle yesterday during a tempest in which the lives of twenty-five persons on a train were imperiled for hours in Galveston Bay, life lines were resorted to and all were saved and brought to this city to-day, suffering from exposure and shock.

The train of the Gulf and Interstate Bay road was being ferried across the bay when a large wave a storm arose. A sixty-mile gale tore loose the barge from the tug and it went careening down the channel toward the shore. The tug started in pursuit and was dashed upon a dangerous reef. Women became hysterical and many were faint.

It seemed that the barge would be driven upon the rocky shoals. Waves broke entirely over the train and the barge and its burden were hidden from sight. The barge crashed upon a rocky reef. Many of the passengers collapsed as they reached land.

MAY REBUILD SUMMIT HOUSE OF CONCRETE

Because no engineer can be found who will take the cost of the rebuilding of the summit of Mt. Washington would be on a building of concrete construction, the officials of the Boston & Maine Railroad are undecided as to what action they will take in the matter of the rebuilding of the Summit House, the old hotel which was destroyed by fire last June. This was built of wood chained by the rocks, but the railroad officials are anxious to build a more substantial structure this time.

DIETRICH, RICH CLUBMAN, WEDS

BALTIMORE, Md., May 27.—Alfred Dietrich, the millionaire club and society man of New York, whose daughter, Mrs. Edna Young Dietrich, eloped last night with Harry S. Broadhead, wife for Alfred D. Vanderbilt, the husband of Mrs. Gordon Carter Hughes, daughter of ex-Governor Brown of Maryland.

The wedding, which was held in the home of the bride's father at North Charles street, has occasioned the greatest interest in society circles as the engagement of the couple was not announced and the rumor of the marriage was allowed to leak out.

ATHLETES HERE FOR THE GREAT STADIUM GAMES

The advance guard of athletes for the big intercollegiate track and field athletic meet to be held at the Stadium tomorrow and Saturday has already arrived in town, the University of Michigan men, ten in number, being registered at the Cooper Square Hotel.

Accompanying the men from Ann Arbor is George Fitzpatrick, their coach and trainer and well known here in the East. Kewee thinks that the championship lies between Harvard and Yale and that the coming high jump will decide the issue.

Kewee says Harvard has mighty good men and looks for Victor to win the 100 yards. He speaks highly of Little, the 220 yard man, and says that Kewee is in shape that the disadvantage that nature will take a good deal of beating. Kewee has a clever player and generally a good one.

Michigan has a cracking good man in their line in Joe Horner. Horner is about ten feet tall and weighs 180 pounds and is not extremely fast. He is a versatile man and can play over a good deal of ground. He is a good runner, a clever player and generally a good one.

THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR

Novelized from the Great Drama of the Same Name.

Edwin Stevens is giving a series of little impersonations of characters from the works of Charles Dickens at Keith's Theatre.

"A Suburban Cinderella," one of the latest attractive productions of his kind seen in this city for a long time, is nearing the end of its run at the Columbia Theatre.

The Star Show Girls and a strong vaudeville bill are drawing to the Old Howard Avenue which has the capacity of the house.

Elma Curren has the songs which are being sung here. She is singing them on the Grand opera with her voice at the best. Cliff Gordon is her tenor.

"The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary" at the Tremont Theatre, with May Robson as star, is a play which interests everybody.

The Mill at the Columbia Theatre is strong in every respect and is sure to please all who like the theatre and music.

The Truancy Company at the Gaiety is presenting a burlesque show which is fully up to the high standard of this comfortable playhouse.

At the Bohemian and John Marlowe as well in Robert and Juliet at the Majestic.

SECRET

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

There have been the grand old letters of the past. Mrs. Agnes Barnard, in England, has been one of the few who will reveal the secrets of the past.

Mrs. George Barnard, her husband and wealthy young widow, has been the one who has been the most of the past.

Some Terrors of the Jungle

(New Orleans Times-Democrat.)

UPPER Africa mosquitoes intoxicate you. They infect you and make you into you that you are dead, your eyes roll and you stagger and speak thickly. In a word, you're drunk, said a missionary.

"In the Texas country I'd always start getting ready for bed and the mosquito as soon before dawn. I'd get up in my mosquito net with the street air. I'd dance down its sides with valves and bones. I'd fight inside it when some good fire, filling with a little smoke that all insects are supposed to loathe.

"Finally I'd get in myself. I'd make big piles of the black native tobacco, and I'd burn miserably in the hot, smoky air, mosquitoes for the day.

"Despite all my precautions once 200 or 300 mosquitoes would get inside my net as soon as darkness fell. They were like a whirlwind in their. It couldn't have been worse. Their note and their stinging made me feverish—made me really delirious at times.

"At last, in exhaustion, I'd get a few hours of troubled sleep, awakening for breakfast drunk from the poison injected by hundreds of their needle like my veins.

"No, it isn't the elephants or the giraffes that trouble the African hunter, but the 'mosquitos'."

Over the Hills and Far Away

By WILLIAM ERNEST HENLEY

WHEREFORE forsake me and take on domestic use and loathly maid. What is the voice of friend command? Calling you still, as friend calls friend. With love that cannot break delay. To rise and follow the ways that lead Over the hills and far away?

HARK! In the city, street on street. A roaring march of death and life. Of victories that clash and feet and runs like lightning swift. Calling to it calling, calling clear. Hark! you still, you cannot stay. From desert things that yearn, you must stay—

Over the hills and far away. O'er the night of lamp and star, it calls you where the good wide world. And the morning overheads are. From faded hopes and hopes again. It calls you, calls you still and day. From the hills and far away.

By William F. Kirk

WELL, sed, Pa, I see that Missus Glyn, the famous authoress, has been panning on aggen. It is evident, Pa sed, that she been very keen for us Americans.

It doemnt matter to me wot Missus Glyn thinks, sed Ma. She is a red bodied & common authoress, with bad taste; wot I wud never allow littel Bobbie to read.

At that, sed Pa, she is a pretty good old soul, & was down at the newspaper office the day that she was introduced to Joe Gans, and she shook hands with him very friendly like, the aim as I hold the head of one (1) of yure lady friends wen I am first introduced.

asked Mister Gans. Mister Gans, donst you git awful nervous wen you git in the ring?" A Mister Gans sed to her "Nervur, Madam, excep wen there isnt enuf munny in the house." At that, sed Pa, as I sed befoar, she is a pritty good old scout.

Well, sed Ma, it dont cut any ice with me wat Elmer thinks. I am not too sure, tho, sed Ma, that her dopes on American men is not all to the mustard. She sed in this latest novel of hers, thay tell me, that American men is lacking in romance. I never wilt my collar, beekaus I never go to dances. I will admit, sed Pa, that I dance once (1) in a while wen I am down to Bevers or Nantasket. In a dance hall thier is polluted with blood & brutal chicken, but

She sed that American men never kissed their wives except the day befoor pay day, wich I guess is pritty near the truth.

Did she happen to mention, sed Pa, that American wives only kiss their husbands the day after the day befoor pay day?

When it cums to woshul dances the stuff is off, I used to fail for the two steps & the three steps, & at one (1) time I cud do the glide, but of late years I have been all to the gout, sed Pa. But as far as willing my collar, sed Pa, I never did. I am too
